

Buffalo Lockjaw

By Greg Ames

James

Fitzroy is headed home to

Buffalo for Thanksgiving, only this year his mom is suffering from dementia and nothing will ever be the same. James and his family struggle with very big questions about the end of life, the quality of life, and assisted suicide. James is a very likable person and you will get a kick out of his friends who have never left Buffalo. This story is funny, tragic, sad and troubling all at the same time.

Paperback, $14.99 ~ Reviewed by Ann Reiersen